Negro Saves Life By Running From Crowd of Angry Men.

Jim Ray, a well-known negro character about town, saved his life Saturday afternoon solely through his sprinting ability. He was pursued by a crowd of angry white men for threatened injury to a white boy, through the part of the town, but he easily outran them and escaped. He seemed to have a desire to run, instead of putting up a fight, and he was advised to run by white men who were spectators to the affair and had no part in it.

There seems to be several stories of how the affair started, but as near as can be learned it was as follows: Ray called Pearl Hawkins, a young man of about eighteen, a liar and threatened to hit him with a stone. Young Hawkins' father, Thos. Hawkins, whose home is in the Mattingly neighborhood, other members of the Hawkins family and relatives and neighbors of the same, resented Ray's actions, real and premeditated, and started after him. The affair began on the river bank in the rear of F. T. Heyser's store. Ray ran up Elm street to A. R. Fisher's drug store, and turning east on Wall street, continued his flight. His pursuers quickly fell behind him, though several missiles were thrown by them and came near hitting him. One of his pursuers had an open knife in his hand, it is said, and there were cries of "Kill him," "Shoot him," etc. Marshal Dehaven stopped the crowd pursuing Ray near Dr. Owen's office and quieted the disturbance.

A large crowd of men were attracted by the affair and excitement went for a short time. There is no doubt any Wright that Ray would have been killed by the men pursuing him if they had caught him.

Newsmen's Success at Leitchfield.

Evangelist J. T. Newsom, of Maysboro, Ill., has just closed a successful meeting at the M. E. church, South, at Leitchfield, there being seventy-five conversions. Rev. Newsom conducted the big revival here last spring.

An Incident of a Slumber Party.

As it happened, there was a slumber party in town last Saturday night given by Miss Ray Lewis Heyser, to nine of her girl friends. The boys were in until 11:30 p.m., when they had to get. These creatures felt a little bad because they could not stay all night and so had to walk off their badness in a way that proved very troublesome to the girls. At the beginning the boys repaired to a secret room and drew up plans for their operations. This convention was disturbed when it was in the midst of the deepest thoughts by the ever-ready-on-the-spot young hostesses. Being caught, politeness required their retreat to the parlor. However, this did not stop the boys and two of them began operations. A ten-minute-long absence was soon gotten from the mother of a false plea that urgent business required their attention. Incidentally, the boys returned with three bags of sugar. As it happened, the beds in the girl's sunroom were arranged so as to make three in one. Out onto the porch and into a window of the girl's chamber the boys went. Sugar, sugar all over the beds, kindling, kindling, tucked in under every sheet. Hair brushes, clothes, shoes, haversacks, everything was heaped into the beds.

The remainder of the story can be best told by any one of the nine slumberers. Of course all of them enjoyed their nap in the midst of all the sugar and kindling wood gently, sweetly and in their beds by "their dear old boys."

Scrofula

Is very often acquired, though generally inherited. Bad hygiene, foul air, impure water, are among its causes. It is called "the soil for tubercles," and where it is allowed to remain tuberculosis or consumption is pretty sure to take root.

In Honor of Miss Heyser.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Heyser gave a slumber party Saturday night in honor of their daughter, Miss Ray Lewis Heyser. The nine girls who were at this party can put the story of it in their diary on the page entitled "The Times of My Life," for they had an unusually good time and were entertained beautifully. The guests were: Misses Martha Willis, Lula Margaret Severs, Maude Polk, Kathrine Moorman, Anna Jarboe, Jennie Mabel Harris, Margaret Moorman, A. Louise Babage, Ray Lewis Heyser. From 8 to 11 o'clock a sennet contest was given for the guests and to this the following accepted invitations: Misses Cleona Weatherford, Grace Ferry, Donald Murray, Edna Jarboe, Lula Owen; Messrs. Walter Odile, Ira Behan, J. D. Blabage, Jr., Lafe Beben, Lawrence A. Murray, Harry Weatherford, David Murray; Mr. and Mrs. James Younger and Mr. and Mrs. Shelly Conrad.

Ninety Additions in Three Years.

A protracted meeting closed at the Baptist church at Garfield just Thursday evening, with eight conversions. The baptising took place Friday morning, seven persons being baptised. It was a successful all round meeting, the attendance being good and the church revived, Rev. E. B. English, the pastor, and Rev. J. T. Lewis, of this city, conducted the meeting.

In the past three years Rev. Lewis has assisted in three protracted meetings at this church, the results of which have been ninety conversions and about eighty-five additions.

Survey For Railroad to Mitchell's.

(Hartford Herald.)

The survey of the Madisonville, Hartford & Eastern railroad has been completed from Madisonville to Hartford and this distance is thirty-five miles.

The right-of-way from Green river to Mitchell's has been almost secured and the management think they will complete it in thirty days, except a few who have not well considered the benefit of a railroad and are holding out for more money than the company thinks they are entitled to.

As we understand it, capitalists are ready to contract for the building as soon as right-of-way is secured or guaranteed by local capital.

The surveying crew now has tents pitched in Hartford and will reach the A. J. Carter farm Tuesday.

When the Duke of Wellington, whose family name was Butler, was going to take possession as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, he was driven by a storm on to the Isle of Man, where a Rev. Mr. Joseph, a poor curate, entertained him as hospitably as his means permitted. On his departure the duke presented him with a gold ring and a diamond brooch. The curate waited many months in vain and at last went over to Dublin to remind his grace of his promise. Despairing of gaining access to the duke, he obtained permission to preach at the cathedral. The lord lieutenant and his wife attended the service, and none of them remembered their humble host till he pronounced his text, which it must be acknowledged, was well chosen. "Yet did not the chief butler remember Joseph, and forgot him." The preacher was at once invited to the castle and a good living provided for him.

The Theban Sphinx.

The Theban sphinx was said to be a monster sent by Juno to waste the country around Thebes. It had the head and bust of a woman, the body of a dog, the tail of a scorpion, and the wings of a bat. Its voice was like that of a lion and a human voice. It ate meat raw and devoured all who could not solve the riddle which it proposed. "What animal walks on four legs in the morning, two at noon and three at night?" Oedipus, attracted by the promise of a rich reward, told his crowd and his sister in marriage, Oedipus and Jocasta, that he was the man who goes on all fours in infancy, erect on two legs when upgrown and supports the infirmities of age with a staff. On hearing this correct solution the sphinx dashed her head against a wall, and the land had rest.

The Work of the Heart.

One of the most remarkable things about the heart is the amount of work it does. Considering the organ as a pump whose task is to deliver a known quantity of blood against a pressure of 120 mm. of mercury, it is evident that in twenty-four hours a man's heart does about 124 foot tons of work. "In other words," says a contemporary, "if the whole force expended by the heart in twenty-four hours were gathered into one huge stroke, such a power would lift 124 tons one foot high in one second." The estimation has been made respecting the amount of work expended by the muscles involved in breathing. In twenty-four hours these muscles do about twenty-one foot tons of work."

Chinese Custom.

A quaint custom practised by Chinese mothers when a child is restless and does not sleep is to write the following verse and pin a copy of it on each of the four corners of the house, that the passersby may read and the child rest. Literally translated the verse reads:

Brilliant sparkling heaven,
Brilliant sparkling earth,
In my house is a child who cries at night.
The enemies coming from the four quarters behind
Peaceful sleep till break of day.

River Surveyors Leave This Week.

The government surveying crew which has been surveying the Ohio river at this point since October 28, expect to leave either today or tomorrow for Hawesville, which will be their base of operations for a time.

Last week all of the parties conducting the survey were working above the city Saturday afternoon, except the sounding party, extended their boat to the bottom of the river at lower landing. Where the survey is extended to a point half way to Hawesville, the boat and crew will go to Hawesville. The progress of the work now depends more on the stage of the river than anything else, though rains weather has retarded it greatly.

Doctors Meet Today.

The Ohio Valley Medical association meets at Henderson today and tomorrow.

Ice Siege Not Expected.

River men are rejoicing in the belief that they will escape a severe ice siege this winter. For two years past the winters have been unusually severe and the cold spells, coming at times when the river was too low, blocked the channel for weeks. This time, they say, there will be quite a good stage of water at the time when ice gorges would otherwise be most likely to form.

They base this belief principally on the prediction of their prophet, E.P. Coe, of Pittsburgh, that there will be a flood beginning December 5 or 6 and continuing for some time. Practically all of the tribe of river men have implicit confidence in Coe. They say that he has foretold every flood in the Ohio river for the past twenty years, never missing the time of its coming more than a few hours.

Death of Joe Pike.

Joe Pike, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fenley Pike, of near Moreleville, Ky., died at the home of his aunt at Kyana, Ind., Saturday morning. For sometime his health has been poor from consumption and his death was hurried by an attack on the liver. "Dode," as he was familiarly known, was twenty-one years old and a young man of splendid habits and enjoyed the friendship and good will of all with whom he became acquainted. His remains were brought through by land from Kyana to Derby, where the family stayed at the home of Mr. S. A. Mitchell until Monday morning at 10:30. Funeral services were held at St. Theresa church. Interment at St. Theresa cemetery. —Derby cor. Channel Telephone.

COTTAGE IN WEST END BURNS.

Property of J. Cutley, Occupied by W. Tatum--Dangerous Blaze.

The cottage just east of O'Connell & Co's store, in the West End, was destroyed by fire last Wednesday morning about 1:30 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Tatum, who occupied the cottage, were awakened by the smoke and had just time to escape. When Mr. Tatum, who had lost all, left the burning building, the flames were hopping about the door.

When neighbors arrived it was seen that the cottage could not be saved, nor any of the contents, and attention was turned to surrounding property. There was a brisk wind blowing and burning shingles were lifted high in the air, and scattered within a radius of several blocks. Owing to the rain the day before and the heavy frost, no other buildings were ignited. Many persons have expressed the opinion that a large section of the west end of the city would have been saved if it had not been for these favorable conditions.

The fire started in a room where there was a stove and it is thought that it came from the heat or sparks from the furnace.

The Tatums are one of the prettiest in the West End. It was the property of Joseph Cutley, of Irvington, who had $400 insurance. Mr. Tatum had $300 insurance on his furniture.

Henderson's Mayor is to Fore With Another Gem,

Major J. H. Powell, of Henderson, whose Thanksgiving proclamations are always couched in language unlike that generally employed, has just prepared his message of good will for this year. Sometimes he indulges in poetry, sometimes only in fervid prose. This time he uses a little of both, as follows:

A charming custom, which hath become with us a sacred law, prompts me to appoint Thursday, November 23, 1905, a day of thanksgiving and prayer in our municipality. Let us praise the Lord in His holy Temple for the manifold mercies He hath manifested unto us, and let us give thanks unto Him. As He hath spared so many miserable sinners. Be it proclaimed, "city breakers are not so common." As night's starry emblems in a cloudless sky. Heaven bless the booming booster, and keep us from striking the fiery knocker. Thank God, guilty, greedy grafters grow on the ground of Greater Henderson. We still live to love beautiful babes, sing sweet songs, paint pure pictures and do heroic deeds.

How becoming to the good man are the jewels of mercy and charity. Never since the stars first shined their stainless twinkle over a sinful world have we been blessed with such a copious crew of clever, capable and confident candidates. Lord have mercy on our office seekers Strew with sugar pills, sunflowers and "forget-me-nots" the paths of this big band of patriots who pray and pull with all their might for progress and prosperity. Ineligible by law, for a second term, soon will your humble servant shuffle off the mortal coil. This is the last unexecuted proclamation. Read it in silent silence, by the blazing fire-side of your own sweet home. Hunter for the light of old Powell's sunshine, as you see him serenely smile. Editors of newspapers, who have published my official documents, and written of me so many kind words, will always hold in my poor heart a place loyal and lasting as the love I bear the little children of my native town.

"Here's a sigh for those who love me, And a smile for those who hate me, And whatever sky's above me, Here's a heart for every fate."

Whilst the winds of October are singing a sad song and scattering yellow-tinted leaves around me as the sun, with shining splendor, sinks to rest and sends back kisses to the silvery river. I bid you a long, last, fond farewell.

Witness my hand this 29th of October, 1905.

J. H. Powell, Mayor
Of the City of Henderson, Ky.

BAPTIST CHURCH DEDICATED.

New Building Takes Place of the One Burned at Cave Spring.

(Tarko correspondent.)

Sunday morning October 29, was not an ideal day for a people from every direction gathered to the dedication of the new Cave Spring Baptist church.

Rev. Jas. Bristol, of Forterville, delivered an interesting sermon in the morning, and one at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. When he appealed to the people for aid they responded liberally and the debt of $150 was liquidated.

The church was well filled and a large crowd stood outside, who could not gain entrance. An abundance of dinner was served on the ground and the best of order prevailed throughout the day. Services closed with the usual dedicatory prayer, by Rev. Chas. Stone.

On April 27, 1886, Cave Spring church was organized by Rev. Wm. Briner, then of Hancock county, now of Meade, with fifteen charter members, at the old Ryan schoolhouse. In a short time a church was erected, it being dedicated Oct. 2, 1887. The membership grew and the church flourished for a time, in the spring of 1901 it was destroyed by fire. Some of the members moved away, some died and now there is a membership of about thirty-five.

The above item was prepared for last week's issue of the News and would have been published if it had not been for the fact that there is no Sunday mail at Tarko and it takes two days for mail to come to Cloverport, if not reaching the news in time, a service which should certainly be improved in a county like Breckinridge.

A Greater Scoundrel.

A famous master of Trinity college, Cambridge, had been a friend in earlier days of one Jenny Gordon, a solicitor. But Jenny went to the bad, was unkind to him, and lived and died without what he could get from old acquaintances. One day he met the master and asked for a shilling.

"Gordon," thundered the master, "if you could show me a greater scoundrel than yourself I would give you half a crown." And he did, and the master gave him a shilling. In half an hour's time the butler announced that Mr. Pompos, the esquire bantle, wished to see the master. Now, the master had a special animosity of the bantle, who, when admitted and early asked what he wanted, replied:

"Mr. Gordon informed me that you desired to see me."

Said the master, "Gordon has made an ass of himself, and grinning, said:

"Mr. Jenny Gordon has called and says you owe him half a crown, sir?"—Newspaper Chronicle.

A Lost Custom.

Among the customs of merry England is that of the milkmaids' procession. It was a May day observance. The manner of their going was as follows: They borrowed a great quantity of silver plates—not shiny plates, but good plates, etc. They built up the plate round an obelisk, crowning the whole with a tea urn. They arranged the most showy flowers of the season between and about the obelisk.

This obelisk was carried by two chairmen in gold laced hats and followed by a troop of handsome milkmaids dressed in pink and blue gowns, "driven through the pocket holes," whatever that means, with high heeled shoes. They carried a large basket on their shoulders, nosebags in their hands and flat "Woolfington hats" covered with ribbons. A fiddler went first in a sky blue coat and hat adorned with ribbons. The procession stopped before the doors of the customers and the milkmaids danced.—London Queen.

The Mace.

The mace was originally a potent weapon of offense, originating doubtless in that earliest and most common way in which a man armed with a club or staff would strike another with it. It was an essential part of a knight's equipment, being useful at close quarters. For ready convenience it was hung at his saddlebow. Says an ancient poem:

And with his heavy mace of steel
Then he gave the kynge his deale.

Then he gave the mace of the mace. The mace used on horseback was a small weapon, usually of steel. That used on foot was much longer and commonly of wood, with head armed with iron rings and spikes. It was carried by the escort of magistrates and others as a ready weapon.

It quietly stood down and its original use fell into abeyance the thing assumed the ornamental appearance it now has. It now being carried in a mere honorary form.—Notes and Queries.

Counterfeiting The Genuine.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered as no other preparation will give the same satisfaction.

It is mildly laxative. It contains no opiates and is safest for children and delicate persons. For sale by A. R. Fisher.

A Mathematical Incongruity.
How is this, from an expert account:

10—10 = 0
100—100 = 0

By axiom 10 things equal to the same thing are equal to each other; hence 10—10 equals 100—100.

Divide each side of the equation by 10—10, and the result is 1 equals 10. Please will he, even women's.—New York Press.

THOUGHTS.

"The Kaiser is assuredly one of the most impressive figures of the time. His ardor, his enthusiasm, his almost fanatic fervor of religious belief, leave no kind of doubt that as a man he is a Christian. But his passion for empire, his reliance on the power of the sword as a means of upholding the welfare of his country, leave no kind of doubt that as a monarch he is a pagan." — Hall Caine.

Did you get your man?

And it is all over. The shouting has not commenced at this writing.

The worst feeling man in this whole campaign will be the man who sold his vote. May God have mercy on him!

No matter who wins it will cost the winner about all the office is worth for the first two years. That is if all reports be true as to the money afloat yesterday.

We shall hate to believe, as was reported here yesterday, that there was any tampering with the ballots at any precinct in this country. It is not only a reflection on the men who engage in it but a reflection on the whole country.

This paper received a very high compliment from a well-known young business man, Mr. Willis Green, in regard to its course in the campaign just closed. These expressions of approval from men of Mr. Green's standing are highly appreciated.

The post card habit has struck this town. It's a good habit. Good for your town and for your friends. You take a fellow way out west and he's glad to see even a post card from his old home town, Kentuckians out West are rather lonesome anyway, and they need to be looked after. They never get over that "homesick feeling", so they tell us.

Our old friend, Judge H. Clay Rawlings, whom we met out in Kansas City, says that he would be glad to see the Democrats and Republicans in their next national conventions both nominate Mr. Roosevelt and that he would gladly support him. The judge was a red-hot Democrat in Kentucky and is yet, but he says Roosevelt is the best president we ever had and that he would like to see him serve another four years.

In the past ten years the wealth of the United States, according to the Philadelphia Commercial List, has increased from $77,000,000,000 to $103,000,000,000, a gain of 33 per cent.; the money in circulation from $1,601,000,000 to $2,519,000,000, a gain of 55 per cent.; the bank clearings from $51,000,000,000 to $102,000,000,000, a gain of 100 per cent.; and the total bank deposits from $4,921,000,000 to $10,000,000,000, an increase of over 100 per cent.

The most conspicuous figure in this country to-day is William Travers Jerome, of New York city, the man without a party. He stands for the people versus the bosses and is proclaiming to the public in words that burn that the people are getting tired of the boss-rule and of graft in public office and in public trust. If Mr. Jerome is elected, and everything points that way, it will be a most signal victory. The Jerome sentiment, like the Roosevelt sentiment, is taking the country.

The safest man in any community is the man who has a bank account. It establishes and lends confidence in him. It promotes credit, establishes responsibility and results in security. With the number of banks in this county it is mighty easy for every citizen to have a bank account. It doesn't matter if you have only a few dollars, open a bank account with your nearest bank. Use your check instead of money. Your money is much safer in your bank than in your pocket.

THERE was one familiar figure we saw out west and that was the Standard oil wagons. There is not a nook, or corner road or by-path in all this great country into which this great concern does not send its messengers. The great secret of its success is that it takes care of its trade. Wherever there is a gallon of oil wanted the Standard stands ready to furnish it. And the most minute detail of their business commands the same attention as the biggest. They go after the business and get it.

EVERYTHING in Kansas City is the "biggest on earth" and the people of that town don't hesitate to tell you so. The Vest boys have got this point of "bigness" down to a finish and they can give you as fine pointers on Kansas City as if they had been living there all their lives. These young men, we are proud to say, stand at the top among the business men of that great city and are making their mark along business and social lines. They still have a longing and a love for their old home and people and every spot of it, they say, is still dear to them and "Cow-heel" in particular.

If it be true, as reported, that a women's missionary society of a Kentucky town has denounced as "tainted" all eggs laid on Sundays, we can do no more than offer to Kentucky the star which was worn by Kansas until William Allen White made her self-conscious. By a stroke of ethical genius it has been decided that all "Sabbath-laid eggs" shall henceforth go to charity. Surely this policy will convert the hens. And if a lingering doubt remains whether the Sunday eggs are "tainted" or not, we must remember that the people of Kentucky are better acquainted with the eggs of their own hens than we are.

WHO ARE THE WORKERS?

The following from the Wall Street Journal, one of the most conservative and one of the best edited papers that comes to our desk, points out some striking facts in relation to the much discussed subject of labor and capital. To our mind it is the true solution of the problem. It says:

"A social orator stood in front of the sub-treasury a day or two ago and told his little cluster of hearers that all wealth was the product of labor, but that the laborer got only a small percentage of the product of his labor; the greater proportion went to capital.

"But who are the laborers who produce this wealth, who take it out of the earth, who cultivate it from the soil, who prepare it for the market, who transport it and sell it to the customer? Is the laborer only the man who works with the hoe, the shovel, the axe and the manifold tools of modern industry? This is a rather important question to be considered before making such a declaration as that the laborer does not get his due proportion of the product of his labor. There are millions of people who never handled a hoe or run a machine. But are they any less laborers who are producing wealth and adding to the sum of the achievements of civilization? Is the banker who finances the great operations of commerce and transportation any less a laborer than the man who works with the hoe? Capitalists who are using their capital and directing its use, in proper channels for the development of business enterprises, are not parasites. Artists, actors, writers and even newspaper men are not parasites living off the labor of others. They, too, have their part in the great mechanism of the production and distribution of wealth.

"There is an internal conflict between one class of labor and another class as to the division of the products of labor. One class is continually complaining because another gets a larger share than it does. There can be no doubt that the division is unequal. But so is the endowment given by nature to different men unequal. No socialist philosopher can explain away the inequality that exists in the mental power of different individuals, and no socialistic program can remedy this inequality. It exists inherently in the human race. Thus one worker of superior mental powers and industry will get a larger reward for his labor than another. The only equality that is possible in this world is equality before the law so that every man, rich or poor, strong or weak, richly endowed, or deficient in brains, shall have an equal standing before the law, and an equal opportunity, under the law, to make the most of the powers which nature has given him. This is the problem which our republican government is endeavoring to solve; namely, the problem of equality before the law. It must be admitted that we have not altogether solved it yet, but we are steadily approaching to a solution. The more of such equality there is, the less room there will be for socialism."

Distinctively Different, In Every Way the Best.

The Weekly Globe-Democrat, of St. Louis, covers a field peculiarly and exclusively its own.

It is issued twice every week. A big SEMI-WEEKLY paper. Eight to ten large pages every Tuesday and Friday. One dollar a year.

Nothing particularly different, you say, about that—there are other "Twice-a-Week" papers.

Yes, but the similarity ends there. No other paper is like the Globe-Democrat in any respect. No other paper equals the Globe-Democrat in any respect.

An entirely unique feature of the Globe-Democrat, a feature which is highly prized by its readers, is its systematic method of preserving and presenting the CONTINUITY OF NEWS.

The news of the week, Tuesday and Friday, are carefully prepared with the view of giving the complete news of all the world for that week.

They are so combined in the make-up as to form continuous and connected stories of the various important events, showing the developments from day to day and the final results.

The "Twice-a-Week" Globe-Democrat gives the telegrams of every day in the week more comprehensively than the average Daily, and of more value to the average reader.

Moreover, the "Twice-a-Week" Globe-Democrat is not simply an echo of Daily editions.

It is a separate and distinct publication, especially prepared to supply the requirements of people who want all the news of the earth—and something more.

It presents the World's daily history in concise but complete form. It is of equal interest in all parts of the United States. It is invaluable alike to men and women, young and old.

It hourly provides for every member of the family. In high-grade literature it particularly excels. Its market reports are correct and complete in every detail.

Its departments devoted to "The Home," "The Farm and Garden," "The Family Circle," "The Sunday School," "Science and Industry," are each and all THE BEST of their kind and either one is more than worth the subscription price of the paper.

In politics it is strictly REPUBLICAN, but it is above all a newspaper, and tells the truth without fear or favor. It has no equal or rival as a general National and foreign journal.

Remember the price, only One Dollar per year—100 papers—less than one cent a copy. Postage prepaid.

You can make no mistake if you send $1.00 TODAY for a year's subscription.

Or you can pay $1.00 for a paper ONE YEAR WITHOUT COST by sending two of your neighbors to subscribe and sending their names with $2.00.

FREE SAMPLE COPIES, containing order blanks and full particulars, will be cheerfully furnished upon receipt of postal card request. Address Globe Printing Company, Publishers.

Greatest Meeting of Kind.

Commenting on the recent international tobacco growers' convention at Owensboro, Up-to-Date

Farming, official organ of the American Society of Equity, says:

"With one hundred and thirty-two regular delegates in attendance and from three hundred to one thousand visitors in daily attendance the Owensboro tobacco growers' convention was considered a success from start to finish.

It was the culmination of a year of hard work and the result is that the greatest price-making meeting in the world's history is now a matter of record.

"Two topics of extreme importance were attached to this meeting. The first was the establishment of minimum prices for each class and grade of tobacco, based upon the cost of production and regulated only by the natural law of supply and demand. It has been proven that the supply is not such as to force prices to the very low level where they have rested for the past three years, and the attempt to keep them there is purely the work of the dealers and speculators.

The other topic of great importance was the work of completing the organization and making plans to enable all tobacco growers to hold for these prices, and to make sales to the best advantage."

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50^o and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digest ion.

feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request.

Be sure that this picture in the advertisement is the real salt pork you buy.

USEFUL FACTS

About Coughs, Colds, and Bronchial Troubles Given by the People of Cloverport by Our Druggists, Short & Haynes.

"In conducting a large drug business we naturally meet a great many people at this season of the year who suffer from coughs, colds and bronchial troubles.

As these troubles are easily controlled if the right means is taken we want to say to the people of Cloverport that we guarantee our cod liver oil preparation, Vinol, will cure hanging on colds, stuffy noses, quinsy than bronchial and lung troubles quicker than any other medicine we have ever sold, because it is the most perfect preparation of cod liver oil ever compounded. It contains no oil or grease to clog the system and up-set the stomach, yet it does contain every one of the fifty odd medical elements actually taken from fresh cods' livers in a highly concentrated form and is therefore the best cod liver preparation obtainable. Vinol is not a patent medicine; everything in it is named on the base label of the bottle and you know what you are taking, so without reservation we endorse and guarantee Vinol to strengthen the organs of the body to do its work as Nature intended—to cure colds, bronchial troubles, increase the appetite, build up the run down, tired and debilitated and create strength and renewed vitality for the aged.

If Vinol fails to do what we say we will refund every dollar paid for it. You know us and know we will do as we agree." Short & Haynes, Druggists.

The President Issues His

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The President issued his Thanksgiving proclamation today as follows:

"By the President of the United States,

A Proclamation:

"When, nearly three centuries ago, the settlers came to the country which has now become this great republic, they confronted not only navalship and privation, but terrible risk to their lives. In those grim years the custom grew of setting apart one day in each year for a special service of thanksgiving to the Almighty for preserving the people through the changing seasons. The custom has now become annual, and is half-clad in its original usage. We have easier and more plentiful times than our forefathers, the men who with rugged strength faced the rugged days, and yet the dangers to national life are quite as great now as at any previous time in our history. It is eminently fitting that once a year our people should set apart a day for praise and thanksgiving to the Giver of good, and at the same time that they express their thankfulness for the abundant mercies received, should manifestly acknowledge their shortcomings and pledge themselves solemnly and in good faith to strive to overcome them. During the past year we have been blessed with bountiful crops. Our oneress prosperity has been evident. No other people has ever stood so high a level of well-being, as ours now stands. We are not threatened by foes from without. The foes from whom we should pray to be delivered are our own passions, appetites and follies, and against these there is always need that we should war.

"Therefore, I now set apart Thursday, the 30th day of this November, as a day of thanksgiving for the past and of prayer for the future, and on that day I ask that throughout the land the people gather in their homes and places of worship, and in rendering thanks unto the Most High for the manifold blessings of the past year, consecrate themselves to a life of greater virtue, honor and wisdom, so that this nation may do its allotted work in the earth in a manner worthy of those who founded it and of those who preserved it."

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington, this 2nd day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and five, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and thirtieth.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Affects Shippers of Whiskey Into Local Option Places.

John W. Yerkes, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, has made a ruling which is of vital importance to shippers of whisky to local option communities. In many instances dealers of this kind have been shipping whisky, consigning it to themselves, bringing a bill of lading or draft which had to be paid by the customer, often at a bank before they could get the goods. The commissioner rules where this is done the dealer will have to pay a special tax before the goods can be delivered to the customer, and this will have to be done in every place where the goods are delivered.

Under an act of the last Legislature dealers in whisky are forbidden to ship their goods into a local option community. C. O. D. In order to evade this responsibility they have been shipping the goods to themselves, and drawing on the customer at the town where the delivery is made. When the commissioner was notified of this he at once made the following ruling:

"Liquor dealers, who upon orders received from customers, instead of shipping the liquor ordered to these dealers, with directions to collect on delivery, will ship the liquor themselves, and send the bill of lading with draft attached to a blank for payment by the customer before they can be entitled to the possession of the liquor, involve themselves in special tax liability at each place where sales and deliveries are made."

"TORICOID GLASSES" are spectacles and eyeglasses lenses ground in a peculiar manner, so as to give a much larger, clearer field of vision, and a much greater degree of freedom and comfort to the wearer that no other glasses can give. They are appreciated only by those who have tried them. The animal shown in the illustration to the owner, "I noticed," said he, "that when just came out of the zoo over there. A slight scent of the wild animals has clung to your clothing, and, although you are not afraid of them, you are not anything wilder than a cow; his instinct tells him that where that scent is there is danger. It will wear off soon and you will have no more trouble."—Philadelphia Record.

A Cough Syrup which dries a cold out of the system by acting as a purgative. It is sold in a peculiar manner, so as to give a much larger, clearer field of vision, and a much greater degree of freedom and comfort to the wearer that no other glasses can give. They are appreciated only by those who have tried them. They are without question, the most scientific and effective glasses ever made; and when made into BIFOCALS (near-sight and far-sight) they can be worn with as much comfort as single lenses. This cannot be said of any other form of glasses.

"TORICOID GLASSES" are made only by T. J. HOWE & CO., and their authorized agents under a patent guarantee that they do not give headache, eye strain, and soreness. By mail and early morning, with a physician and dentist, and the money paid will be refunded.

They are made in every size and shape.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headach, indigestion, bad temper, debility, sour taste, and caustic of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural agents of digestion that are found in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does away with all forms of indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the numerous membranes lining the stomach.

T. S. Austin, M. D., of Leavenworth, Ind., says:

"I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years.

Kodol cured me and we are now using it to this day."

A SINGULAR COMBINATION.

RIDER HAGGARD, WEIRD FICTION WRITER, MODEL FARMER AND POLITICAL ECONOMIST.

Makes Official Report on Salvation Army Colonization Work.—Would Direct the "Waste Forces of Be-nevolence."

H. Rider Haggard is a man of good looks. At one time, he is writing such impossible creeds as "Sodom and 'Gomorrah's Mines," calling into play a most vivid imagination and settings, in weird and unreal scenes; at another time, he is actively engaged in the work on his magnificent 200-acre English farm; next he is studying over some new imaginative creation, wandering about his home and talking to the members of his family for a week at a time; and again he is making an economic study under a government committee of the social conditions of the poor in America. In a short interview with him, as he passed through Washington on his way, I found that he possessed eminently practical hard sense, while the imaginative streak of his character did not manifest itself.

He has established rural settlements, taking worthy poor from the overcrowded cities, furnishing them with small tracts of land, sufficient money to get a start and make houses for themselves, repayment for the cost of which is provided at low rates of interest.

Mr. Haggard expresses himself as extremely well satisfied with the results seen at the Fort Bourne and Fort Morris settlements in California, and the Fort Amity settlement in Colorado. The Ohio settlement he leaves out of consideration, as it is principally due to the want of capital, supplies, and the carrying out of agricultural experiments.

At both Fort Bourne and Amity, he found the settlers were happy and useful and content without exception doing well. Beginning in nearly every case with nothing, in the course of about four years, Fort Bourne, in particular, these settlers, worth about $2,000 per head, above all their debts and liabilities to the Salvation Army and others, and the Fort Amity men are worth over $1,000 per head, which he thinks is more than they could have possibly accumulated during the same period of day laborers on the rail or the citizen.

Reason For Wide Encouragement.

It is true that, although the settlers themselves are doing well the Salvation Army, for the reason that most people are not willing to buy land, which were encountered, was called upon to pay some $50,000 for its expenses. Mr. Haggard declares, however, that this is no circumstance, and in the face of the principles demonstrated, and the success won in every other direction, this experience has been very cheaply bought.

"Further," he says, "I cannot see any cause to fear a repetition of that loss, as the first application of those principles is. It is therefore totally inaccurate to say, as has been done widely in press summaries of my report, that these settlements are financially a failure."

Would Systematize Philanthropy.

Mr. Haggard proposes a scheme, i. e., to combine a judicious use of the public credit, with that of what have called "the waste forces of benevolence" and by means of these two levers, to lift some of the mass of humanity up. He also demonstrates in the most efficient of utilization to a new level of plenty and contentment.

He believes that if settlements are carried out on these lines, and especially if they are located upon good land, which has cost the controlling authority little, if any, money, there should be, as is indicated by the tables furnished in this report, no loss, but even a considerable gain.

Ancient Adulterations.

Adulteration appears to have been quite as necessary in the good old days as in the sophisticated twentieth century. Even the adulteration of feathers began early, and had to be provided against. October 14, 1405, is the date of a statute prohibiting the sale of English fowls or of the feathers of these articles, excepting in the most trifling manner, to a new level of plenty and contentment.

He believes that if settlements are carried out on these lines, and especially if they are located upon good land, which has cost the controlling authority little, if any, money, there should be, as is indicated by the tables furnished in this report, no loss, but even a considerable gain.

SOUND ADVICE FOR MEN.

The Person's Side of It—Converses of the Proprietary of the Wife and Household Duties.

Begins away back with St. Paul, who admonished the women to keep silent in the churches, the so-called weak and柔弱的，and exhorted, advised, and ridiculed; and then has got out beginning with DON'T, and an equally lengthy array of the positive DO.

But all this sage advice applies in turn to maid wife, debutante and dowager.

What's savor for the goose is savor for the gander. Why not some advice to men?

Are you one of those men who consider it their chief personal belongings their hats, canes, coats or slippers, wherever they've happened last to them?

Do you smoke your cigar in the parlors and let the ashes fall where'er they will, and that too, after the regular Friday cleaning? And you indecently expose your wife with a knowing sophist about cigar ashes keeping out moths.

Do you bury yourself in the morning papers even reading while eating, when great dinners, or you are still in bed? The morning coffee is just the least bit below standard though the previous twenty-five mornings you have drunk the lamer liquid of surpassing deliciousness?

Do you notice the new gown that has cost her days of thought and effort? Or do you say "Women spend a lot of time and effort, and then take your new coat back to the tailor the sixth time because it doesn't fit?"

Do you compliment the little woman when you are enjoying one of your great dinners, or when you are still in bed? The morning coffee is just the least bit below standard though the previous twenty-five mornings you have drunk the lamer liquid of surpassing deliciousness?

Do you notice the new gown that has cost her days of thought and effort? Or do you say "Women spend a lot of time and effort, and then take your new coat back to the tailor the sixth time because it doesn't fit?"

Do you compliment her on your plans, your perplexities? Do you share with her your joys and fears? Do you know of the rate of pay you lead so many hours each day? Or do you turn her questions with a brief "Women know nothing?"

Do you sometimes take her in your arms and say "Little woman, you are a good wife—a real helpmate! Do you ever think of the things you did for the sweetheart days? Or do you let it go, thinking "What's that?"

Do you sometimes take her in your arms and say "Little woman, you are a good wife—a real helpmate! Do you ever think of the things you did for the sweetheart days? Or do you let it go, thinking "What's that?"

The woman's field of labor, big man, is narrow and circumscribed. It is bounded, ordinarily, by the walls of the house and the needs of the children. This is the province and sphere of the woman, and she also longs for contact with the big world, for the mental stimulus that comes from friendly association with men of ability, or recognition of her compensation for services rendered.

Because she is your wife, because she has entered the domestic life, this is the only work she does.

Can you be generous to the little woman? Can't you welcome her into your larger life? Can't you make her your real comrade—your true helping?

Coin, Stamps, and Other Imitations Box in Large Quantities—Valuable Counterfeiting Machinery.

The periodical destruction of counterfeit currency, spurious coin, postage stamps and other contraband material has been conducted by the secret service, has been ordered by the Secretary of the Treasury. The accumulation of this stuff in the treasury is large.

The chief difficulty in the room of the treasury in the cash room of the treasury have been delegated a committee to see that this "queer" money is done away with. It costs the government $100,000 a year to store these sums so much counterfeited money and counterfeiting tools and implements accumulate in the office of Chief Wilkie, of the secret service, to be destroyed.

The chief notifies the Secretary of the Treasury, who issues an order which sends the coin to the assay office, all the silver and gold is melted or reduced from the base, run into ingots, Valueable Counterfeiting Machinery.

At present the contraband industry is able to counterfeit notes, coins, postage stamps and revenue stamps, valuable and costly type, by means of which counterfeitors print the Latin numerals on "quid pro noster" bills, and the like, on banknotes, dies, molds, stamps and other accessories of the art of making fictitious money.

This year a large batch of the John-Brown note was seized and burned. They are known as the "Hancock 2s."

They were made by the celebrated counterfeiter Johnson of Detroit and were seized under the act that suspended the issue of note. No doubt many of these counterfeits are still in circulation and performing the function of fictitious money.

A number of notes made by the notorious but now "reformed" counterfeiter Brockway will be exhibited.

This rule, which Viceroy Lord Curzon also introduced in India, caused almost open rebellion among the native governors and maharajahs, and the government, who on a number of occasions disregarded the Viceroy's rule and left the empire not only without his consent but against his strict instructions.

The wealth of some of the Russian churches in costly gems, jewelry and precious stones is proverbial. Some churches in the Baltic states, notwithstanding the fact that they are not supported by the government, as they are in Russia and other countries, are gradually acquiring wealth by the sale of costly glass, windows and costly vestments.

For instance, the most costly mitre in the United States, a mitre which will resemble the crown of the Virgin Mary and whose stones are worn by Bishop Horstmann of the Cleveland diocese of the Roman Catholic Church.

Most of these articles are given to the church by the city of Cleveland by the church of St. Peter, which was founded by Mr. Gordon, who also donated the Gordon Park.

Mr. Gordon was a father of Mrs. Daniel Hanna, wife of Hanna, son of the late Senator Hanna.

HANDS CRACKED AND PEELED

Suffered for One Year — Water Caused Agony, Heat Intense Pain — Grew Worse Under Doctors' Care Could Not Do Any Work.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"About a year ago my hands began to crack and peel. I tried many remedies, but they grew worse all the time.

At last they became so bad that it was impossible for me to do my housework. If I tried to wash my hands in water, I was in agony for hours; and if I tried to cook over the stove, the intense pain caused intense pain. I consulted a doctor, but his prescriptions were utterly useless, and gave him up.

Then, for a week, I found to my great delight that my hands were beginning to feel much better, the redness had disappeared, and the stop running, and today my hands are entirely well, the one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment did the work. I used it (signed), Mrs. Minnie Drew, 18 Diana St., Roxbury Mass."

ONE NIGHT TREATMENT For Sores Hands and Feet with Cuticura

Soak the hands or feet on retiring in a strong, hot, creamy lather of Cuticura Soap. Dry and wrap nicely with Cuticura Ointment, the soap acting as a preservative.
